THE SUITS-Never were better materials put into $15 suits, nor neater patterns. By concentrating on fewer patterns—the pick of the grays and browns, black and white effects and mixtures—and on four well-cut models, the cost of producing them has been cut down.

Come and see them. If we attempted to describe them in detail, you would think we were exaggersting.

THE TOPCOATS—Wear any one of them anywhere you like. No one will guess how little you paid for it. Silk-lined Chesterfield coats in a soft dark oxford; extremely smart. And American homespuns in three-tone effects, satin shoulders and sleeves; wonderfully well cut; patch pockets, cuffed sleeves.

Quite an advance over our efforts of previous years. Which is as it should be. Broadway, corner Eighth.
